

Data Management Policy New Plymouth Contract Bridge Club

Policy	Background The New Plymouth Bridge Club considers the protection of privacy of its members and contactors to be of the utmost importance. This document describes how we manage information within the Privacy Act 2020 which protects personal information and grants individuals the right to access their data, while balancing other rights and interests. Collection and use of information The Bridge Club Committee may collect personal om members and contractors in several ways • Enrolling in classes or other educational activities • Enquiring about membership and other activities • Registering as a member (name, address and contact details) • Paying subscriptions and purchasing tickets • Applying for and being offered a job and it will be used for the following purpose (unless you advise us otherwise) • Managing payroll and GST • In the annual the Club programme, name and contact number provided to club members • Club email to contact directly to provide information, request information, or communicate Club activities • Provided to NZ Bridge to permit allocation of a unique NZ Bridge number • Where external providers are used eg. an external data base management system used to manage subscriptions and other purchases. • Use of photos for promotion purposes which may be taken at club events and used to raise the profile of the game and promote it nationwide. This includes publicity on the club website, social media and articles to print media. We will NOT: • Send communications that you do not expect to receive from us • Disclose your personal information (unless authorised to do so) to other club members • Sell, rent, or distribute contact information to parties who are not part of our business Storage, access and correction of information Access to your personal information is limited to authorised club personnel by the use of passwords. You have the right to access information held about you at any time, or for information to be corrected, but may be required to provide proof of identity to access it. You do not have to provide a reason for requesting this information and can reasonably expect that this will be actioned. It is now a criminal offence for a business or organisation to destroy personal information knowing that a request has been made to access it. It is illegal for others to mislead the Club, to access someone else's personal information. Your information is deleted when you resign from the club.

	Credit card information Where we use a third party for services such as management of subscriptions, tournament fees and tickets then arrangements will be reviewed so they are compliant. Privacy Breach If we have a privacy breach, we have lost control of personal information and that could cause or has caused serious harm to that individual we are required to report that to the Office of the Privacy Commissioner. They are then able to issue compliance notices and have the power to fine for non-compliance. The Privacy Commissioner will also be able to order agencies to give people access to the personal information held on them. International sharing of Information Legislation requires us to take reasonable steps to ensure that personal information sent overseas is protected by comparable privacy standards. There is no intention for the NP Bridge Club to share information with any overseas entity.
